

JAY PATRIARCA

Jay Patriarca is a 40 year old in a 14 year old's body. He is focused, driven and loves to learn new things. Spend any amount of time with Jay, and you will, at some point, hear the phrase, "Did you know?" followed by some obscure piece of scientific trivia. Not only gifted with smarts, Jay has an artistic side as well as a natural gift to entertain. Director Stacey (also Jay's Aunt) spotted that when he stole the show in his school play three years ago. When ARTC needed to fill the role of "The Boy" she knew exactly who could do the job!

Jay's artistic talents include writing, dancing (he is a fantastic dancer) and acting. He is quite the comedian as well, keeping all of the cast and crew laughing throughout the ARTC shoot.

His first love is animals. Jay is an accomplished horseman and competes regularly on his horse Dakota in gymkhana and barrel racing with Oak Creek Corral in Santa Clarita. He loves his critters and is setting his sights on studying at UC Davis to become a small animal veterinarian.
Thanks Jay for all your hard work!
